A doctor, who is familiar with the case, was interviewed on the subject. He said that the white girls without husbands gave their babies to the Chinese. The white girls insist on being paid for their babies from the Chinese as much as $25 a month. The Chinese doctors also demand bodies for the purpose of dissecting a girl who had worked in one of the "Living-in" hospitals. The doctor said that the knowledge of the white babies, and received in a Chinese man, selected in a ness has created so much excitement at Mr. Hunter, Secretary of the League for the Prevention of Cruelty to Children, called on Chief of Police Crowder for his co-operation in making a Chinatown and removing all the babies they could find in possession of Chinese. They found three, two of which are still alive. The third one is dead. It is believed there are still many more who have hidden themselves from sight. The three babies were placed in the Orphan Asylum and have been placed in the Orphan Asylum. The Chief of Police stated that he had information of the kidnapping of white babies by Chinese, but it was never reported, so that these little ones were undoubtedly turned over to the Chinese by mothers who

EIGHT PAGES.

SATURDAY, JANUARY 30, 1885.

This horrible traffic which has been discovered going on in San Francisco—the buying and selling of white children—is enough to startle any community. The white sellers of these innocent babes are worse than the Chinese buyers of them. They are men, and both deserve to have their heads put on spikes as a punishment as vigorous as any provided by law for the blackest crime known to the criminal calendar. The revelations thus far made will not surely be followed by others, perhaps more startling, and involving other places on the coast besides San Francisco. The police of that city will doubtless ferret out these abhorrent crimes against humanity and civilization, (providing they are given time and opportunity to prosecute the necessary search warrants, and the offenders don't get away to China or somewhere else while the search for said warrants is going on).

The matter has already been brought to the notice of the State Legislature.

Tax city patrons of the Times are asked to pardon the late appearance of the paper this morning. The great length and figurative character of the beautiful romance which we print today from the pen of that prolific author, E. Hammett, has taxed the energies of our able typographical force to the utmost, and we are not quite on time with this day's issue. But, to compensate for the delay, we give the Tax Collector's graphic and realistic descriptive sketch in full, and are happy in the sure consciousness that the pardon of our patrons has been earned. No other paper has this literary bonanza.

MAJORA CHARTA—the Chief of Police riding over the rights of the people of the East of Chatham on the common law of England. We think that the Chief of Police is totally wrong, and ought not to do anything to hurt the feelings of other keepers of houses of ill-fame, or of the Churches, by arresting them. [Herald.]

Thus do our steamed contemporaries employ the same quill in their journalistic work.

The commercial department of the Times has been somewhat demoralized during the past few days, by a tremendous press of other matter, but the appearance of the "goneness" in that quarter will be remedied very soon. So with the WEEKLY MIRROR, from which the market reports have disappeared in a few of the recent issues. They will be restored in future issues, and be made more and more full and accurate.

Should the Los Angeles Chief of Police happen to discover a traffic in babies going on in the Chinese quarter, let him be careful about interfering with it without a warrant, or he may incur the displeasure of those newspapers and people who are engaged in the domestic business of invoking the aid of the Magna Charta to shield the soiled doves and virtuous of Los Angeles street.

In the Senate, yesterday, Del Valle failed in his effort to save the bill providing for the appointment of trustees and teachers for the Los Angeles Branch Normal School upon a new basis. The bill was successfully opposed on the ground that its passage would have the effect of destroying the autonomy of the present normal school of this State.

The Delinquent Tax List appears in the present issue of the Times, covering the 34, 4th, 5th, and part of the 7th page. It is a serial story of absorbing interest, and will be completed in three numbers. Persons who wish to procure the whole of this thrilling tale should subscribe now, as we cannot undertake to furnish back numbers.

The New York Herald very justly says: "The popular heart and impulse is right on this point, and the people understand that Grant should be cared for by the official act of the nation, and not by charitable aid. It is to be hoped that malevolent antipathies may not prove more potent in Congress than a national conviction."

The talk of a Mormon beggar from Utah begins to look serious. The saintly hope to find a spot in some where they can practice on polygamy in peace, and wind up their bedroom clocks according to the dictates of their own conscience, with none to molest or make them afraid.

The Silver men, in session at Denver, after home on Thursday. Secretary Teller telegraphed his sympathy, not in making Rome howl, but in their effort to place silver bullion on an equal footing with gold bullion. Yesterday's session was less boisterous and more business-like.

SENATOR-ELECT STANFORD was to leave San Francisco yesterday morning for the East, via New Orleans, in company with A. N. Towne, J. C. Stubbs, W. G. Curtis, T. W. Pierce and others. If the party got to Los Angeles as advertised, they will pass through Los Angeles to-day.

"F." who wrote to the Times on the subject of a dream, failed to send his name along with his contribution, and thereby secured its rejection by a large majority. "F." is just like a lot more people who "write to the papers."

The Associated Press sends out some Cabinet gossip. Whether or not it is within a mile of the mark, is of no consequence. Cabinet gossip we must have. Grown people demand it and children cry for it.

A lady writes strongly and forcibly to the Times on the question of enforcing the municipal law, preserving peace and order, and protecting people and property.

The Senate, in executive session yesterday, rejected the Nicaragua treaty. This will not finish the measure, which will doubtless be pushed to ultimate success.

MISCELLANEOUS.

The McGowan bill for the division of counties should not pass without being amended as to put reasonable guards upon the power to split counties. (Specially for the purpose of subdividing the personal or political interests of ambitious individuals. Provision should be made for permitting the whole people of a county, not a fraction merely, to vote on the question of division. To divide the autonomy of a county's territory is a serious matter, one in which all the people concerned have a right to voice. County division may be a proper and desirable thing in a few cases in California, but more often it will be productive of more harm than good. It increases expense, tends to burden thinly-populated and struggling communities. In the case of Los Angeles, for instance, there are no sufficient physical, geographical, financial or other reasons why this important and important county—one of the greatest and most famous in the State—should be divided. It would leave two parts weak, and two weak counties are not worth one strong one.

Under the McGowan bill, as it stands, it would be manifestly unjust as well as impolitic to encourage and permit a minority faction of the people of the county to divide it. The people of all sections of the county have a claim upon the territory of all other sections of it, and all should be consulted on the subject of division—all should have a chance to have their "say" on the subject.
